Summary

Exciting opportunity ahead! Novartis, a global healthcare leader, is on the hunt for a dynamic, detail-orientated individual to join our team in the pivotal role of Demand Planner. This is a 12-month contract where you'll play a key role in shaping and strengthening our AU and NZ operations.

This position calls for your ingenuity to optimise our total inventory holdings perfectly in sync with both our CPO and global guidelines. Here at Novartis, we not only provide you a job but an opportunity to make a difference while enjoying a thriving and supportive work environment.

About the Role

- Conducting ongoing demand planning activities that are customised to meet our operational strategies while ensuring cost-efficiency.
- Leveraging your expert forecasting skills to positively influence our planning and inventory management processes.
- Leading and delivering pivotal projects targeted at improving our forecasting, planning, and inventory management procedures.
- Interpreting and responding to global, regional and CPO supply chain directives, translating them into actionable strategies.
- Collaborating with cross-functional teams to ensure stock availability, prevent stock-outs, and maintain optimal stock levels.
- Presenting regular updates and reports to senior management, providing insights into demand trends, inventory levels, and potential challenges.
- Contributing to the development of annual and quarterly forecasts, using historical data, market trends, and strategic planning.

The ideal candidate will demonstrate exceptional understanding of demand planning, have a proven track record of successful project leadership, and exhibit excellent problem-solving skills. You should also have a collaborative work ethic, capable of interacting with various stakeholders and cross-functional groups.

By joining Novartis, you will be joining a global healthcare leader focused on improving patient lives. At Novartis, diversity is embraced, and all employees are valued and empowered.

If you are seeking a challenging yet rewarding role where you can truly make a difference, then the Demand Planner at Novartis is perfect for you. Contribute to our mission and elevate your career to the next level.

Why Novartis: Helping people with disease and their families takes more than innovative science. It takes a community of smart, passionate people like you. Collaborating, supporting and inspiring each other. Combining to achieve breakthroughs that change patients' lives. Ready to create a brighter future together?
